

Emory University Libraries (EUL) license electronic resources (e.g. databases, e-journals, e-books, etc.) for use by current Emory University faculty, students and staff. The use of licensed electronic resources is for academic courses, career/interview research and personal enrichment only. Using databases for commercial purposes, internships, or current employers (including sponsored students) is prohibited. This policy applies to all EUL licensed electronic resources, whether they are accessed on or off campus. [Proper Use of Licensed Databases; Examples of Appropriate and Inappropriate Use]

Emory's ability to provide access, authorize use, and permit reproduction of licensed electronic resources is governed by contractual license agreements and U.S. Copyright Law. Misuse or violation of these restrictions may result in the termination of access to the electronic resource; each user is responsible for complying with the terms and conditions of these licenses and may be liable for any copyright infringement they may commit. As the use of LLMs and GenAIs for your research increases, be aware of the University's policies and guidelines. [Using AI Responsibly at Emory]

You are legally prohibited from:

- Uploading any content from a Goizueta Business Library (GBL) or EUL licensed database into an LLM or GenAI. Note: use of localized AI apps or CoPilot, Emory's "protected" enterprise access, may still not be legally allowable for uploading copyrighted or privacy-protected content.
• Systematically downloading, saving, or distributing significant portions of these licensed electronic resources beyond what is allowed by copyright and/or the license.
• Systematically downloading database content using robots, scripts, or other software programs.

Failure to comply with Emory's Library Licensed Electronic Resources Conditions of Use policy may have legal consequences and may result in suspension or termination of access, and disciplinary actions in accordance with applicable university policy for all undergraduate and graduate students. [Honor Code; Copyright Policy; IT Conditions of Use Policy; Libraries' Code of Conduct]

Statement of Intent

I will not upload any content from a GBL or EUL licensed database into an LLM or GenAI; I understand that use of localized AI apps or CoPilot, Emory's "protected" enterprise access, may still not be legally allowable for uploading copyrighted or privacy-protected content.

I will not use robots, scripts, or other software programs to generate searches and mine content.

I will not systematically download, save or distribute significant portions of these electronic resources beyond what is allowed by copyright and/or the licensing agreement.

I understand that my use of the GBL and other EUL licensed databases is restricted to appropriate academic research, career/interview-related research, and personal enrichment.

I will not use the GBL and EUL licensed databases for any other activities, including but not necessarily limited to my current employer or internship.

This policy applies to all GBL and EUL licensed electronic resources, whether they are accessed on or off campus.

I understand that the information in the electronic resources is copyrighted and that even use for academic or personal applications must comply with the copyright laws.
