

November 2018

Event to commemorate Frederick Douglass' 200th birthday

Engraving of Frederick Douglass, from his autobiography, "My Bondage, My Freedom" (1855). Rose Library rare book collection.

Emory Libraries will co-host "Frederick Douglass: A Bicentennial Tribute" on Tuesday, Nov. 27, from 6-9 p.m., to celebrate the abolitionist's 200th birthday.

Co-hosted with the Consulate General of Ireland and open to the public at no charge, the event will feature live readings from his speeches, editorials, and letters. Presenters will include Oscar-winning actor Louis Gossett Jr., Emory faculty and staff, Atlanta community members, and one of Douglass' direct descendants.

Find more details

Register for this event

Conservator to discuss Dante's 1466 book project

Image courtesy Jeff Peachey.

Rare book conservator Jeff Peachey will visit the Woodruff Library on Tuesday, Nov. 6, from 4-6 p.m. for an illustrated talk on "The Conservation of Dante's 1477 'La Commedia.'" Peachey will share his work on this extremely rare book and discuss its deterioration, 15th century and modern book-binding practices, and more. A reception will follow the talk at 5 p.m.

Read more about this event

Register

Emory donors: Tune in November 8

EMORY THANKS

We invite our donors and supporters to tune in to our social media platforms on Thursday, Nov. 8, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., when students, faculty and staff will be thanking you for all the resources and services your generosity helps to fund at the Emory Libraries.

Like us on Facebook or follow us on Instagram ahead of time, then tune in that day to check it out.

From all of us at Emory Libraries,
#EmoryThanks you!

Oxford Library draws winning hand with games collection

Photo by June Kwon/courtesy Oxford College Library

The Oxford College Library started its tabletop games collection in 2017, and since then it's grown to over 100 games available for checkout.

In addition to relieving the stress of academic rigors, the games help build a sense of community among the students. Among the favorites: Cards Against Humanity, One Night Ultimate Werewolf (a roleplaying game), 7 Wonders, and Monopoly.

Read more about the games collection

Health sciences library staff shares knowledge and expands expertise

Librarians and clinical informationists at the Woodruff Health Sciences Center Library have been sharing their expertise with others in their fields and expanding their knowledge in recent months, which helps them better serve the research needs of Emory faculty and students in medical, nursing, and public health studies.

Learn more in this update

From readings to receptions, don't miss a single event. Get updates sent to your phone or email, or add a reminder directly to your calendar. See what's coming up and choose an option that suits you.

To subscribe to this newsletter, email your name and address here.

Read about our latest news, events, exhibitions, and headlines here.

View previous issues of Keywords here.

Help us inspire creative expression, scholarship, and new knowledge. Contribute to Emory Libraries.